

THE VERDICT.

How it was Received by the Prisoner and the People.

Court Room Scenes and Incidents—Various Opinions Expressed—Probabilities of a Motion for New Trial.

[Associated Press Dispatches.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—At 3:15 Judge Cox began to deliver his charge to the jury. He commenced by saying: "The Constitution provides that in all criminal prosecutions the accused shall enjoy the right of speedy and public trial by an impartial jury in the State or District where the crime shall have been committed; that he shall be informed of the cause and nature of the accusation against him; that he shall have compulsory process to obtain witnesses in his favor, and that he shall have the assistance of counsel in his defense. That the jury intended for the protection of the innocent from injustice and oppression, and it was only by their faithful observance that guilt or innocence could be fairly ascertained. Every accused person was presumed to be innocent until the accusation was proved. With what difficulty and trouble the law had been administered in the present case, the jurors had been daily witnesses. As, however, consolation to think that not one of those sacred guarantees of the Constitution

HAD BEEN VIOLATED in the trial of the accused. Before proceeding further he wished to notice an incident which had taken place pending the recent argument. The prisoner had frequently taken occasion to proclaim that public opinion, as evidenced by the press and his correspondence, was in his favor. These declarations could not be prevented except by the process of gagging the prisoner. Any suggestion that the jury could be influenced by such lawless clamoring of the prisoner would have seemed to him absurd, and he should have felt that he was insulting the intelligence of the jury if he had not taken occasion to remark that the counsel for the prosecution had felt it a necessity, however, in his final argument to interpose a contradiction to such statements, and exceptions had been taken on the part of the accused to the form in which that effort was made. For the purpose of purging the record of any objectionable matter he would simply say that anything which had been said on either side in reference to public opinion or to newspaper opinion was not to be regarded by the jury.

TO ESTABLISH MURDER It had to be proved, first, that the death was caused by the act of the accused, and further, that it was caused with malice aforethought. That did not mean, however, that the Government had to prove any ill-will or hatred on the part of the accused toward the deceased. Wherever a homicide was shown to have been committed without lawful authority and with deliberate intent it was sufficiently proven to have been done with malice aforethought, and malice was not disproven by showing that the deceased had no personal ill-will towards the deceased and that he killed him from other motives. The jury would have to say the defendant was guilty of murder or innocent. In order to constitute the crime of murder the assassin must have a malicious mind, and the technical terms he must be "of sound mind, memory and discretion." Any irresponsible sane man could not commit murder if he was

LABORING UNDER A DISEASE Of the mental faculties to such extent that he did not know what he was doing, or knew it was wrong. When he was wanting in the sound mind, memory and discretion; that was a part of the definition of murder. Every defendant was presumed innocent until the accusation against him was established by proof. Notwithstanding the distinction between innocence, it was equally true that the defendant was presumed to be sane and to have been so at the time the crime was committed. The burden of the proof as to insanity was on the defense. The jury was not to infer that the prisoner was insane because he committed an enormous crime. The only safe rule for the jury to direct its attention to the one test of criminal responsibility, namely, whether the prisoner possessed sufficient mental capacity at the time the act was committed to know that it was wrong, or whether he was deprived of that capacity by

MENTAL DISEASE. There was one important distinction which the jury must not lose sight of, and they must decide how far it was applicable to this case; that was the distinction between mental and moral obligation, between mental incapacity and moral distinction between right and wrong and moral insensibility to that distinction. And now, gentlemen, to sum up all I have said to you, if you find from the whole evidence that at the time of the commission of the homicide the prisoner was laboring under such a defect of his reason that he was incapable of understanding what he was doing or of seeing it was a wrong thing to do—as for example, if he was under an insane delusion that the Almighty had commanded him to do the act—then he was not in a responsible condition of mind, but was the object of compassion, and should now be acquitted. If on the other hand you find he was under no insane delusion, but had the possession of his faculties and had the power to know

HIS ACT WAS WRONG; And if of his own free will he deliberately conceived the idea and executed the homicide, then, whether his motives were personal vindictiveness, political animosity, desire to avenge supposed political wrongs or a morbid desire for notoriety, or if you are unable to discover any motive at all, the act is simply murder and it is your duty to find a verdict of guilty. During the delivery of the Judge's charge which was completed at 4:40 p. m. there was perfect stillness in the crowded court room and even the prisoner kept absolutely quiet with the exception of one or two simple interruptions. The jury immediately retired, and many spectators left the court.

THE VERDICT. On the convening of the Court after recess first came the prisoner with a quick, nervous step, and as he seated himself in the dock, the light of his eyes and the fullness of his face disclosed more than usual pallor. Not a tremor of the limbs or a movement of the muscles of the face was observed as he threw back his head and fixed his gaze upon the door through which the jury were to enter. Judge Cox soon afterwards took his seat.

The clerk called, "Order!" and the jury at 5:35 filed slowly into their seats. Every sound was hushed save the voice of the clerk as he propounded to the foreman the usual inquiry. Clear and distinct came the reply: "We have." "What is your verdict, guilty or not guilty?" With equal distinctness came the reply,

"GUILTY AS INDICTED." The pent up feelings of the crowd found expression in uproarious demonstrations of applause and approval. "Order!" shouted the bailiff. Scoville and the counsel for the prosecution were simultaneously upon their feet. Scoville attempted to address the Court, but the District Attorney shouted: "Wait till we have the verdict complete and in due form of law." Order was at length restored and the clerk in addressing the jury said: "Your foreman says guilty as indicted so say we, all of us." "We do," all responded. Another demonstration of approval followed this announcement, but not so prolonged as the first.

FOLLOWING THE VERDICT. Scoville still upon his feet demanded a poll of the jury, which was granted, and each juror was called by name, and each in a firm voice responded, "guilty." As the last name was called the prisoner shrieked: "My blood will be upon the heads of that jury, don't you forget it!" Scoville again addressed the Court, saying: "Your Honor, I do not desire to forfeit any rights I may have under the law and practice in this district. If there is anything I ought to do now to save those rights, I would be indebted to your Honor to grant it to me." Judge Cox, in reply, assured him that he should have every opportunity. That the charge would be furnished him in print tomorrow, and that he would be accorded all the time allowed by law within which to take his exceptions, and that he would also be entitled to four days within which to move in arrest of judgment.

CALLS FOR VENGEANCE. Guiteau, who from the moment Judge Cox began the delivery of his charge had dropped completely his air of flippant arrogance and sat with rigid features and compressed lips, called out in tones of desperation, "God will avenge this outrage."

JURY DISMISSED. Judge Cox then turned to the jury and said: "Gentlemen of the Jury: I cannot express too many thanks for the manner in which you have discharged your duty. You have richly merited the thanks of your countrymen, and I feel assured you will take with you to your homes the approval of your conscience. With thanks, gentlemen of the jury, I dismiss you."

MOCKED AND JERIED AT. With this announcement the court was declared adjourned. And now the general trial which has absorbed public interest and attention for more than ten weeks, was ended. The crowd quickly left the court room, and the prisoner, gesticulating with his hands, was led away. As he passed the reporter's tables he leaned over and called out to an acquaintance: "The court in bank will reverse this business." His appearance was now that of a man deeply moved with indignation at some outrage or indignity which had been put upon him. As he was being put into the van of the crowd of men and boys yelled and shouted themselves hoarse in mockery of the prisoner's constant boast, the American press and people are all with him. The van was quickly driven away, followed till out of sight by the jeers and yells of the crowd.

SPECULATIONS. Scoville will probably file a motion in arrest of judgment and for a new trial on exceptions. The law gives the defendant four days to file motion and reasons for a new trial, and it is customary for the Court to set some day to hear the argument. Should this motion be overruled, the defendant will appeal to the general term, and under the law defendant is to cause a suspension of the sentence till after the next general term, not exceeding thirty days. The January general term is now in session and the case cannot then be heard, but will be applicable to the April term. It is the custom to continue the April term until September, taking a recess over July and August, but should it be closed by the latter part of May, then if the judgment is affirmed, Guiteau's execution might take place in July.

ONE BLANK BALLOT. The jury proceeded to ballot. The first eleven for conviction and one blank, given by Heinlin, who wanted to be assured that Guiteau had said at any time that the notoriety he would gain by killing the President would increase the sale of his book, but will be applicable to him and the next ballot showed twelve votes "guilty."

"ALONE IN HIS GLORY." John W. Guiteau, by accident, was not present when the verdict was rendered. Scoville stood in his usual place to make the customary announcement regarding exceptions; and there was no human being near the assassin at this dreadful moment who had any tie with him or any sympathy for him. He was again hurried out, and in five minutes more the room was empty.

THE TRIAL OF GUITEAU WAS OVER, having lasted just seven days less than the agony of Garfield. REMOVING THE PRISONER. Upon being removed to the van an angry hiss broke out. "No more men," cried Deputy Marshall Williams, holding up his hand in exhortation, "No more of that, it's all over now." This checked the crowd, though murmurs followed their progress to the van, and as Guiteau slunk into it, there was a yell from the crowd and men and boys ran along after the van screaming and hooting, "Hang him, hang him!"

AVENGED. Some one person called out in a tone that must have rung in the ears of the wretched man inside: "President Garfield's death has been avenged."

AN APPEAL PROBABLE. Scoville said to-night that the next move in the Guiteau case would be a motion for a new trial, which he expects to file Saturday. The main points which he is based on are that the jury erred in rendering a verdict contrary to the evidence. Judge Cox, in his charge, did not base it all upon evidence, and the jury during the trial read newspapers and had conversations with outside persons. Should the motion be denied, an appeal will be taken to the Court en banc in April.

SCOVILLE'S OPINION. Referring to the verdict Scoville said, after hearing Judge Cox's charge, he was not surprised that the jury rendered a verdict of guilty. He refrained, however, from passing any criticism upon Judge Cox's charge further than to say he had not been accustomed to hear a Judge address a jury as Judge Cox did, but simply to submit written instructions, and this upon the law bearing upon the case and not upon the evidence. Judge Cox, Mr. Scoville thought, did not review the entire evidence given in the case, but only a portion of it.

A MANIAC IN REALITY. Guiteau is said by some to have appeared the coolest person in the court room at the time the verdict was announced, but Scoville believes when the excitement attending the trial overtook him, he was a maniac. Scoville thinks has sustained Guiteau all the way through-out, will result in his becoming a raving maniac.

NOT YET KNOWN. Scoville does not talk to-night like a man who thinks his labor in this matter is at an end. There are good grounds he says for a new trial and he proposes to show this from the record of the trial. When the popular feeling against Guiteau has died away, in that record he will be found the fact that the letter from Guiteau to District Attorney Corkhill with his signature, and large parts of its contents torn off was admitted in evidence. Besides this there is expert testimony which he says is condemned by a thousand competent men throughout the country, and other facts not matters of record, all of which can be used as reasons for asking for a new trial.

MRS. GARFIELD NOT INTERESTED. CLEVELAND, Ohio, Jan. 26.—Inquiry was made today of Mr. Rudolph, brother of Mrs. Lucretia B. Garfield, as to how the late President's widow received the news of Guiteau's conviction. He answered that he had been at Mrs. Garfield's home almost every day during the trial and never heard the subject mentioned. Mrs. Garfield apparently has taken no interest in the trial from the first.

THEIR WHOLE DUTY. WASHINGTON, January 25th.—The jurors in the Guiteau case say that even had they not been sworn to read the newspapers they would not have taken advantage of it, for they were determined from the first to give any cause for complaint—that they would do their whole duty as jurors and that their conduct was concerned there should be no ground for charges of irregularity.

CARVING OUT A STATE. The Doings of a Mass Convention in Dakota. YANKTON, Jan. 26.—A mass convention of Southern Dakota assembled at Sioux Falls yesterday to consider the question of the division of Dakota and the admission of the southern half as a State. Over five hundred representatives were present from twenty-three counties. The hall was filled with the most influential Republicans and Democrats of Southern Dakota, representing all professions and branches of business.

IMMENSE ENTHUSIASM. Ex-Governor Edwards of Yankton was Chairman. One hundred and thirty-four delegates were chosen to visit Washington and urge Congress to pass the Enabling Act, now pending for the admission of Dakota and to give the northern half a territorial government. The resolution claims two hundred thousand people in the southern part of the Territory at present, and sixty thousand in the northern half, and demand admission. Entire harmony prevailed. The delegations leave for Washington soon.

EARTHQUAKE REPORTS. Centerville, Mission San Jose and Pleasanton Visited. SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 26.—An unusually severe earthquake was experienced at Centerville this evening, causing great excitement among the residents. A very heavy shock of rain preceded the shock.

SAN JOSE SHAKEN UP. MISSION SAN JOSE, Jan. 26.—At twenty-five minutes past five this evening quite a hard shock of earthquake was felt at this place.

PLEASANTON SHOOK. PLEASANTON, Cal., Jan. 26.—A heavy shock of earthquake was felt here at twenty-three minutes past five this afternoon.

PACHECO'S POLITICAL PROSPECTS. NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—The Graphic's Washington special says: Congressman Pacheco's friends are canvassing the question of sending him to Chile to succeed late Gen. Kilpatrick. He speaks Spanish as well as English and would make a creditable representative of the Government in any court. Whether Pacheco would like the mission or not is not known positively, but it is believed that he would go, although he has bright political prospects in California and need not leave the state if he wishes to remain in active life.

ARIZONA'S GOVERNOR. WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—The President has nominated Frederick A. Tritle of Nevada, Governor of Arizona.

A DEBT BILL. RICHMOND, Jan. 25.—The Riddleberger Debt Bill passed without debate—23 to 17.

Downey Harvey in Luck. YUMA, Jan. 26.—Recent developments in the Remann mine, Silver district, this county, are phenomena. Fifteen feet of solid ore is at the bottom of the shaft and the ore wall has not yet been encountered. The ore body is all impregnated with horn silver and the ore is so valuable that it is all used for the manufacture of silver. A great deal of it assays over a dollar to the pound. This strike is equal to any ever made in Arizona. Downey Harvey, a nephew of ex-Governor John G. Downey, is one of the principal owners of the Remann.

Flour Mills Burned. SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 26.—The California Flour Mills and Elevator Company, corner of Sixth and Berry streets, was burned this morning. Loss estimated at forty thousand dollars.

Vermont will make 2,000,000 pounds of maple sugar this season. Sweet Vermont.

LOS ANGELES DAILY TIMES.

The Los Angeles Daily Times will be sold on all the trains of the Southern and Central Pacific Railroads, also on the Atchafalaya, Topoka & Santa Fe and Texas & Pacific roads.

The Times can also be found at the newsstands of the Palace and Occidental Hotels and Russ House, San Francisco.

Arrangements are now being perfected to have the Times placed in the reading rooms of the leading hotels in this and the Eastern States.

The Times office is connected with the telephone system of this city, and those desiring to advertise in or subscribe for this paper can do so by this means.

OUR DEPENDENCE.

Appropos to a possible dry season, which, by the way, is by no means assured, or, in fact, from present indications, at all likely, Deputy County Assessor A. W. Ryan, who has been connected with that office as principal and deputy for many years, and is therefore well informed, gives us some statistics as to the lands in this county, which may be relied upon to produce crops, even if no rain should fall this winter. He states that the Deputy Surveyor General, when here two years ago, found under irrigation fifty-six thousand acres, which now by reason of the construction of new ditches and the extension of others, the laying of pipes and improved management of the various water sources, must have increased to at least fifty-five thousand acres which can be irrigated. As to damp lands which will produce crops without irrigation or further rainfall, he estimates the quantity at forty thousand acres, making a grand aggregate of one hundred and fifty thousand acres—equal to one thousand farms of one hundred acres each, or two thousand of fifty acres each, whose production would be increased in value as well as quantity, by a drought. These figures may be relied upon as official, and each successive year witnesses further developments of the water supply and demonstrates that less water is necessary to the production of crops and extends the area of permanent cultivation and the creation of a reserve of which this country may well feel proud. With such a showing as this every creaker's mouth should be peremptorily closed.

THE SITUATION AT SAN PEDRO.

Superintendent Hewitt, in answer to an inquiry, thanks the recent extension of the railroad from Wilmington to San Pedro will not be opened for business sooner than March. There is yet much work to be done to get everything in shape to handle business smoothly. Until then passengers and freight will be ferried by the tug and lighters as now and heretofore. There is some clamor against the transshipment, but until the bar is deepened so steamers can come to the inner harbor at all stages of the tide, there is nothing lost by taking the steamer at Wilmington. The transshipment would have to be made at San Pedro to get out to the anchorage. We shall not have everything in perfect working trim in less than a twelve-month or so, then we can bid adieu to the growling.

MRS. LINCOLN.

Drs. Sayre, Clymer, Knapp and Hancock, have examined Mrs. Lincoln's condition recently and find her suffering from chronic inflammation of the spinal cord, chronic disease of the kidneys and commencing cataract of both eyes. And they say further that there is no probability of her recovery. She is now quite helpless and unable to walk with safety without the aid of an attendant, or indeed to help herself to any extent. She is at the eclectic establishment of Dr. Miller in New York. Her income which has been $3,000 per annum, being the pension paid by government, has lately been increased to $5,000.

Our esteemed contemporary, the Daily Herald, is thus early discussing the possible candidates before the next Republican State Convention for Governor. We presume he desires to get as much of his work in as possible before the heat of another summer shall render hard work disagreeable. We are pleased to note the interest felt in the Republican party by our Democratic friend, and we read his chatty effusions with great pleasure. But we must say he does not help us elect our candidates "worth a cent," as the phrase is. And, come to think of it, he has not of late years succeeded in doing much to prevent their election, so we presume it would be as well to thank him for his efforts, and suggest a continuance of effort in the old way.

The late dispatches from the revolution now pending in Montenegro, Herzegovina and surrounding principalities have aroused the patriotic spirit of the Slavonians residing in Los Angeles. They express a great desire to participate in the struggle with their countrymen, and will, if needed, rush to their support.

ELECTING THE PRESIDENT.

Senator Edmunds of Vermont, has prepared a bill to provide for amending our present method of electing the President and Vice President. He refers all questions in relation to electors to the states themselves. They are to be decided by State tribunals. The Governor is to make out his list of electors in accordance with its decisions. Congress is not to have the power to reject a return where there is only one, except by the vote of both houses. Where there are two or more returns, the return is to be accepted which the two Houses of Congress, acting separately, shall decide to be, not necessarily the true one, but the one which had the endorsement of the State tribunal. Senator Edmunds has patiently gone to work, found out where the trouble lies, and proposes the logical remedy.

DIDN'T WORK.

The grapevine telegraph of a morning cotemporary failed to work yesterday. It says: "The Guitau case closed last night and was given to the jury. Reports were received that the jury had brought in a verdict of guilty, but up to this writing there has been no verification of these reports. The wish is father to the thought." Notwithstanding the failure of the grapevine, the TIMES' dispatches announced that the jury, after deliberating six minutes returned its verdict at 5:30 of the day previous to the issue which contained the above item. We should discharge the operator on such a line.

REPUBLICAN STRENGTH.

The Bulletin is good authority for saying the Republicans are in a better condition now than they have been since 1872. They have control of Congress, under the limitation of President pro tempore David Davis, and of the Administration.

There is this apology for the Democratic editor who year after year resorts to the stale, unseemly slant of the campaign in narrating Republican party history, that there is no damaging truth for him to utter, so of course he must resort to Munchausenisms. The prosperity of the country and the confidence of the people in the party as expressed in successive elections are solid and gratifying facts Democrats will not publish, and so are compelled, in their insane purpose to say something of a damaging nature, to falsify history and attempt to defame the men through whose exertions this peace and prosperity have come.

The Senate Select Committee have given a hearing to a delegation of the National Woman's Suffrage Convention, and resolved to give to the subject of woman suffrage that careful and impartial consideration which its grave importance demands.

SAN PEDRO.

Schooners and Vessels in the Harbor.—New Depot, Rain, Schools, Etc.

Business here is still brisk. Thirteen lumber schooners lying in the harbor, whose crews are busy discharging cargo or taking ballast preparatory to leaving port. Three large sailing vessels outside. The new depot is nearly completed and is now receiving its first coat of paint. The sound of the carpenter's ax and saw and the heavy, irregular thud of the huge hammer of the pile-driver makes music that savors more of business than melody.

Yesterday (Tuesday) we had quite a shower, raining so hard in the afternoon that all outdoor work had to stop. Not having a rain-gauge we are unable to give the exact number of hundredths that fell. To-day the sun is shining brightly, birds singing, and the bay and great ocean beyond lying peaceful and calm and glittering in the sunlight like an extensive mass of molten silver. In the distance the bold outlines of Catalina may be seen rising up abruptly out of the water, reminding one of the table mountains of Southern Kansas and Indian Territory. Looking farther seaward may be seen the smoke of a passing Panama steamer, and still farther on the limit of vision is reached and sky and water seem to meet.

Being driven indoors by yesterday's rain, I made a short visit to the public school of this place, conducted by Mrs. Wheeler. There I found about twenty boys and girls all busy as bees, and their patient teacher engaged in the "delightful task of training the young idea how to shoot." In listening to the various recitations and watching attentively the mode of government, and witnessing the beautifully simple gymnastic exercises, I was convinced that the teacher thoroughly understands her business, and is deserving of the most honorable mention.

Sorry to say that the morals of this place are not what they might be. When there are so many sailors in port as at present and so much "tanglefoot" to be had, it is not to be wondered at that there should be an occasional old-fashioned knock-down. We have, I think, averaged one fight a day for the past week, which does not speak well for our morals. Take the whisky away and we would have as quiet a little community as any in the State. "Oh, that men will take an enemy into their mouths to steal away their brains." No mas, S.

A very large and fine specimen of a live centipede was caught by Dr. Maynard of the "bus" line a couple of days ago and taken to Godfrey Brother's drug store yesterday to be placed on exhibition. It is worth going to see.

Complaint is made that hoodlums sneak into workshops, small stores, etc., constantly guarded, and pilfer tools or any other small articles easily removed. They should be severely dealt with when caught. That is the only remedy.

Capt. Russell of the Eagle Corps has just introduced among the boys a system of competitive drilling which will add greatly to the interest of the heretofore rather monotonous exercises, besides spurring the members to greater efforts than formerly.

A gentle mist began falling about half-past one o'clock this morning. What will come of it cannot be said. It is raining up the coast in the neighborhood of San Luis Obispo, and it need astonish no one if this is the beginning of another fine rain.

J. De Barth Shorb and others are forming a company with the view of planting five hundred acres in the Alhambra tract to vineyard. Work will be commenced also in a short time on an immense winery, one of the largest in the State, to be completed in time for the next vintage.

Mr. D. Freeman was actively engaged plowing and seeding on the Centinella ranch yesterday. Other parties were also sowing wheat and barley. Some, however, are waiting until more rain shall fall—a consummation devoutly to be wished and evidently at hand.

Eastern newcomers complain in unmeasured terms of the scant accommodations in the way of suitable residences afforded here. Others complain of the deficient hotel accommodations. Los Angeles cannot afford to treat her visitors thus, but should by all means provide her guests with every convenience and comfort.

Two gentlemen took a buggy ride this morning to look at some property near the covered bridge. While viewing the property the horse got loose and made a first-class run for up town, halting not until stopped by some parties on Commercial street, and resulting in the buggy being considerably damaged and the horse somewhat so.

The good taste and refinement of our Compton neighbors is evidenced in the number of costly monuments to be seen in their beautiful cemetery. Mr. J. G. Hathorn of Compton, who has just purchased a monument which will be placed in position shortly. It is of very fine granite stone and the workmanship, executed by Deedes & Gilbert, unsurpassed.

At the late fire the hardware stock of Harper, Reynolds & Co. was damaged to some extent—most of it only in appearance. But whether it was damaged much or little, they are selling it out for just what they can get for it, to make room for the new stock with which they are rapidly filling up, having paid over five hundred dollars freight on the new goods already received. Go and see if there is anything you want, if you want to buy goods at your own prices. See ad.

One of the most inappreciable things to a person visiting our suburban town, Pasadena, is—why there should be no "city of the dead." Does it indicate that our highly favored neighbors aim to convey the impression that they have discovered the long sought for fountain of life, which Ponce de Leon made such a fruitless search for; or perhaps they would intimate that the same health-giving breezes they enjoy give an unlimited lease of life also. Surely some reason exists, and we inquisitively ask, What is it?

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. W. E. Willmore whose familiar countenance has been missed for our streets for months will arrive here shortly from the East with a large colony of people who contemplate settling on the lands of the American colony.

Mr. A. S. Field, Father Field of Tustin, called yesterday and reports that new accessions to that community are coming in. The Kansas colonists have perfected their irrigation system and are now busily planting trees.

Gen. Banning was in the city yesterday morning and reports everything flourishing at Wilmington. He thinks the wrecked vessel will be got off and saved without half the damage anticipated.

Mrs. A. E. Pomeroy wife of our enterprising real estate dealer, and little son, will arrive this morning on the steamer from San Francisco.

Mr. F. K. Krauth, commander-in-chief of the Alameda Encinal, will arrive in the city this morning from Oakland.

Rev. Mr. Peterson of Santa Ana has been appointed pastor of the M. E. Churches in Artesia and Westminster.

Mr. C. H. Simpkins, President of the Los Angeles Gas Company, is a passenger by this morning's train.

M. G. Miller of Artesia was in town yesterday and reports rainfall of about an inch last Tuesday.

E. J. Baldwin of Santa Anita, made an excellent score at Slotterbeck's shooting gallery last night.

Capt. J. Q. A. Stanley was on the street yesterday much improved in health.

SANTA MONICA NEWS.

Mr. John Kingsley, an ex-type sticker, now an employee of the S. P. R. Company favored us with the following budget of news:

About two car loads per day of grain are shipped daily from Santa Monica north. The late rains made the farmers around Santa Monica feel jubilant, and with the occasional showers which they feel sure will follow they are sanguine of having fair crops at least.

The recently established Band of Hope is in a flourishing condition. The bathing is said to be excellent and many visitors are disposing themselves daily in the surf. The fishing and hunting are also good and indulged in very extensively.

HATCHET MEN.

Chinese Criminals and Their Secret Orders.

How Chinese Free Masonry was First Started, What It Is, and Something About the San Francisco Lodges.

The origin of Chinese Freemasonry is ancient, its history eventful. Some two centuries ago during the progress of a civil rebellion, such an organization of Freemasons was discovered in the Chinese Empire. It was under the leadership of monks or priests, who, with the exception of five, who had in their possession all the secrets, signs and records of the organization, were taken captive and executed by the authorities. At the close of the rebellion the monks who had escaped with their lives met in executive conclave and decided to reorganize the order of Freemasons on a new and less hostile basis. Separating and locating themselves in five of the most populous and prosperous provinces of China,

THE MONKS. Commenced the task of reorganization. Four of the five priests specially noted for their wealth and wisdom were named Tay Oeh Chung and Fung Hi Hung, and it was mainly under their direction that the principles of the new Freemasons were established. Both these monks were of noted lineage. The motto or inscription emblazoned on the escutcheon of Tay Oeh Chung was the word "Chee," which translated into English means great or noble, and the motto of Fung Hi Hung was "toak," signifying perfect. Tay Oeh Chung fled from Canton into the province of See Yet, while Fung Hi Hung made his way into the province of Chee Kung Tong and both successfully managed themselves to the details of their official duties. The

OTHER PRIESTS. Carried out the plan in the respective provinces assigned them and met with little success. In due course of time the organization thus perfected grew and prospered in wealth and power and by preserving intact its secret policy, continued to exist without exciting, except in specially aggravated cases, the hostility of the rulers of the Chinese Empire, the trouble in such instances usually being restricted to some particular lodge or lodges which had declined to submit to an official inspection. Prior to the date of its re-organization the order of Chinese Freemasons existed only in the Chinese Empire but it has since extended itself until it now exists everywhere that there is located any considerable number of Chinese throughout China and the United States. Some

FOUR YEARS AGO. A branch of the organization founded by Tay Oeh Chung was established in San Francisco, where it still exists, and consists of thieves, and is a semi-barbarous and criminal league—a disgrace to the reputation of that enlightened city. The order is known to the Chinese residents of California as "Chee Kung Tong," the word "Chee" being taken from the motto of Oeh Chung and the term meaning when translated, "The greatest, most reasonable and most honorable society." A year later a similar but distinct organization was also established in that city, termed "Toak Kung Tong," signifying "The most perfect and most honorable society," the word "toak" being after the motto of Fung Hi Hung. Chee Kung Tong was originally under the supervision of the Chinese merchants and business men, and included in its membership the BETTER CLASS. Of the Chinese. It was then a society of good standing and attracted but little, if any, attention from the municipal authorities. It maintained its central temple at No. 827 Washington street, and was in correspondence with the Grand Lodge in China and with its numerous subordinate lodges on the Pacific coast. Owing to the dissatisfaction which soon arose in the ranks of Chee Kung Tong, caused by the admission of the criminal classes, commonly known as "Highlanders," together with embezzlement of a large sum of the society's funds by an absconding President, Toak Kung Tong was established as above named. In to-morrow's issue will be found a description of the devilish work of this society.

EMERSON VS BALDWIN.

A Dispute Between Neighbors Over Land.

The case of Emerson vs Baldwin which has been continued in Judge Adams' Court until Saturday for using threatening language arose out of a dispute about a land line. It appears some time ago Emerson claimed some land that he had good reason to believe was Government land and built there. While in town one day some men by the order of Baldwin removed all of Emerson's improvements and burnt it on the ground. Several days after Baldwin met Emerson who had an axe in his hand and as Emerson walked up to him, he commanded him to stand still. Hence the suit. The land in question appears to be nearly a mile and a half from Baldwin's line, a railroad section coming in between the two places.

An Aboriginal Ball.

Mr. Hollenbeck came upon a relic of yesteryear yesterday at his place across the river. In making an excavation and when about four feet below the surface a copper ball was unearthed which weighed about seven pounds. It was alone in its glory with nothing surrounding it to tell of its history. It is undoubtedly older than the date of the coming here of the American artillery, and the question of whence came it is an open one for the antiquarian.

The Weather Report.

Observations taken by the U. S. Army Signal Service at 8.15 o'clock last night are as follows: Barometer, 30.22; Thermometer, 46.41; Wind, NW; miles per hour, 4; Clear. Maximum thermometer, 56; Minimum thermometer, 38.

PASADENA PARAGRAPHS.

The Fruit-Growers Association—Glorious Sale—An Artist.

At the meeting at the school house last Saturday evening, of the Fruit-Growers, Messrs. Dougherty and Ward were appointed President and Secretary for the evening. Mr. Risley from the committee reported a constitution, the consideration and adoption of which was considered by those present and definite action postponed until Saturday evening, (28th) when it is to be hoped that every resident who is interested in this matter will be present.

Mr. Sewall, of the firm of Sewall & Stevens, of San Gabriel, was present and made a few interesting and instructive remarks upon the handling and shipping of fruits and closed by making a most liberal offer to the growers of this locality, and which will be taken up for final consideration at the meeting Saturday evening. Everybody come and bring your neighbor, so that the questions that may arise may be settled satisfactorily to all parties concerned. Before adjournment, on motion of Capt. Risley, a vote of thanks, for courtesies extended, were tendered the Los Angeles DAILY TIMES and the WEEKLY MIRROR. On motion of Mr. Watts, a vote of thanks was extended to Mr. Sewall for advice and suggestions, also for the liberal offer made by him.

The fine residence of Mr. Woodbury, north of Pasadena, is receiving the finishing touches and will soon be ready for occupancy.

Pasadena was visited by a most glorious rain lasting the greater part of Tuesday. At times it came thick and fast and it was the general impression that we were "in for it" but disappointment reigned supreme when Old Sol made his appearance on Wednesday morning. We had about three-fourths of an inch, wetting down from one to four inches, according to the condition of the soil.

Miss Lily A. Ward, the artist, who has met with such success in Los Angeles has, by request of several of her friends, consented to, and will have a class in drawing and painting here, Saturdays of each week commencing Saturday January 28th.

WELL PLAYED.

How a California Thief Picks up an Eastern Man and Robs a House.

Early day before yesterday morning a gentleman from the East who is here for his health, while trying to gain it in the small hours of the morning, fell by the wayside and was taken care of by a would-be good Samaritan. A friend of the gentleman, seeing him in such a condition, and in questionable company, took him in tow and piloted him home, but could not dismiss the self-sacrificing, solicitous stranger, who proposed to take good care of the poor gentleman. Finding that there was nothing to be lost, as the gentleman had deposited his money and watch at the hotel, the friend left, and shortly after so did the gentleman, but he was not alone. He was in a strange place instead of walking out of the building he went on a tour of inspection, finally landing in a lady's bedroom, where he helped himself to several articles, such as gold bracelets, a watch, sleeve buttons, etc., to keep as souvenirs of his pleasant visit. The lady was in bed at the time, but being too much scared or not having had an introduction she did not say a word until he had left the room, when she gave the alarm, but having previously divested himself of his shoes and coat he started off as you please. For unlimited cheek this fellow takes the palm, for after going into the Fountain Saloon, just after his escape, he sat down at a table where the husband of the lady, that had been robbed was sitting, explaining the loss of his coat and shoes by saying he had just had a fight, and compelled Mr. Z. to take a drink with him.

Up to the present the police have not been able to arrest him, but knowing their man well he will not be likely to escape when he starts on another prow, and having been up all night was undoubtedly sleeping during the day.

LAST NIGHT'S READING.

Prof. Florestan's Entertainment at Baker Block.

Last night Professor Leon Florestan, late of Paris, made his debut before a Los Angeles audience. The Professor arrived in this city a few days ago and sent invitations to a number of citizens requesting them to attend a lecture on stage elocution in the rooms of the Los Angeles Club. Before eight o'clock there were about seventy ladies and gentlemen present, that being as many as the rooms would accommodate. The Professor's lecture, which was delivered in French, was very interesting. He illustrated the benefit derived by a course of study, and proved that a person with weak lungs would greatly improve under his style of teaching that beautiful art. He then recited scenes from Racine's tragedy and from the Lady of Lyons. The latter he recited in English, and as Claude Melnot was very good. The Professor will give another reading soon.

NORWALK NOTES.

A New President—Dedication—Sickness—Elijah in Demand.

Norwalk is being very rapidly populated. The latest new-comer is a son of Mr. Richard Thompson. The boy looks just like his father. His fighting weight is eight pounds, and he will no doubt some day be President of the United States. Mr. Thompson will pay for this notice.

The M. E. Church at Artesia was dedicated last Sunday by Rev. Chas. Shelling, of Los Angeles.

There is a good deal of sickness in this vicinity at present.

An old gentleman by the name of Collins was buried in the new cemetery at Artesia last week.

Farmers are still plowing and sowing grain. We have had several colder blizzards than a man's hand, but as we are no Elijah we could not make it rain. If Elijah Potts does not make it rain soon we hope he will go up in a balloon.

NORWALK.

WOMAN WALKIST.

Madame Du Pree in the Field Against Two Male Walkists.

The Champion Female Pedestrian in the United States—A Four Day's Tramp.

Several days ago it was announced in the Times that Madame Du Pree would begin a four days' walking match at Horticultural Hall in this city this evening at eight o'clock, her contestants being two picked walkers of Southern California. Ever since the announcement was made preparations have been rapidly progressing and now everything is in readiness and it is expected that this will be the hottest walk Los Angeles has ever had. A Times reporter visited the Madame at her hotel last night and found her to be a very mild PLEASANT LADY. Of medium size, and she seemed to feel perfectly confident that she would win the race. The most of her walking matches for the past four years have been with men and she has almost always come out ahead. She has walked a number of six day matches in the Eastern and Southern States, but has never visited California before. She says that she believes with such a climate as Los Angeles has, she could walk for ever.

The Eastern papers speak very highly of the lady.

ONE PAPER SAYS: The lady stands to-day the champion pedestrienne of the world for distance, and for endurance stands without a peer even among the male walkers, and can score her 500 miles in any six days' walk. Ladies are particularly invited to attend this contest and witness the endurance of one of their own sex—a slender little woman, once an invalid, who has secured health and perhaps saved her life by physical exercise, and by dressing, living and eating in accordance with nature.

At Yankton, D. T., after a fifty-hour match between the Madame and a noted walker named Buttner, Madame Du Pree won the race. The hall was packed when the last round was made, and Buttner stepped on the platform.

AND SAID: Ladies and gentlemen—On behalf of Madame Du Pree and myself I thank you for this token of appreciation. I have been fairly beaten, and that by a woman; but there is some satisfaction in the fact that my competitor was and is the champion female pedestrienne of the United States.

This evening at eight o'clock sharp the fun will begin.

LOS ANGELES SNUBBED.

The Normal School Board's Favoritism Open to Severe Censure.

Mr. John Falvey, stairbuilder, of this city received a communication yesterday from the Board of Normal School Trustees informing him that his bid of $1,000 for stairways in the Los Angeles Normal School was rejected. It seems that Messrs. H. H. & J. B. Morgeson of Oakland, a firm known to Mr. Falvey as comparatively new comers, secured the work by making their bid $997.

Would it not have been better to have awarded the contract to Mr. Falvey, who is one of our own citizens, than to have saved the enormous sum of three dollars to the state by giving the work to a firm located five hundred miles away?

No exception was made or could be made to Mr. Falvey's qualifications, for his work on the Baker Block, J. W. Hollman's, N. R. Vail's, J. E. Hollenbeck's, and many other buildings and residences in the city abundantly testifies to his rare mechanical skill.

The bid of a prominent Los Angeles hardware merchant for the plumbing was defeated by a similar technicality, his bid of $1,845 being rejected in favor of that of Mr. Sheehan of San Jose for $1,800, the same man, by the way, who secured the contract for the San Jose Normal School and rung in about $1,000 in extras, a smart trick, and which may be resorted to again in this instance.

There was but $300 difference between the Los Angeles and San Francisco bids for lumber, a ridiculously small sum in a contract of such magnitude, and a still more ridiculous feature of which is the fact that owing to the six weeks delay on the part of the contractors in furnishing lumber the State has lost in Superintendent's salary and other contingent expenses a sum which literally dwarfs the $300 into insignificance, whereas the lumber could have been supplied by any Los Angeles lumber merchant during the delay. Comment is unnecessary. The facts speak for themselves, and facts are stubborn things. We simply exclaim, Who is to blame?

CITY CRIMINAL COURT.

The Regular Days' Proceedings in Judge Adams' Court.

Yesterday was rather a lively day in the Criminal Court. In the forenoon the Court tried James Smith, an old drunk, and gave him nine days in the chain gang. Another drunk named John Bell was tried for the same offence and got the same dose.

In the afternoon Wm. Anderson, who was tried by the Court a few weeks ago, was tried on another charge, but for same offence, by the Court and a jury of four. The case grew out of a neighbor's quarrel on the boundary line between Andrews and a near neighbor. The jury found the defendant guilty.

Walter Meyer was tried for fighting in the city limits and got three days.

RECORDED.

Real estate men report that the recent rainfall has dispelled the fears of the Eastern new comers to a great extent. Many of them are now preparing to invest money with redoubled assiduity. A notable feature of the present influx is the fact that most of the new comers are people of means. They are also prepared to invest their money here and locate permanently, satisfied in their minds that Los Angeles county offers the best inducements of any place on the Pacific Coast.

A HIGH TONED TRAMP.

Myers Wanted to Take Charge Whether or Not.

James Myers who just got out of the chain gang day before yesterday got on a jam yesterday morning and was trotted to the jug by Captain Cuddy. It seems that Myers wanted to take possession of a house on Seventh street and when ordered out said that he had traveled all over Europe and the United States but had never been ordered out before and he'd be—but he did, and this morning he will explain to Judge Adams.

CHURCH SOCIAL.

The Baptist Society held one of their usual pleasant socials at Good Templar's Hall last evening. The attendance was fair, and all with one accord aimed to render the musical and literary exercises a success, not forgetting, either, to do justice to the liberal supply of refreshments provided, the universal sentiment of all being that it was a very enjoyable occasion.
